

Love First Training

At the McIver Center at The Retreat

We are excited to announce that Jeff and Debra Jay will once again be holding their Interventionist Training at the McIver Center at The Retreat in 2022!

INTERVENTION TRAINING JUNE 19 - 24, 2022

The 5-day, 30 CEU course covers every aspect of structured family intervention. You will learn advanced methods of the Love First model, including executive-style intervention, invitational-style/process intervention, workplace intervention and other variations. You will learn how to individualize the intervention process to the needs of families and the addicted person, including working with dual diagnosis, volatile situations, and special populations. Active learning dominates the training experience. Participants engage in problem solving, analysis, evaluation, and team-based learning. You will also learn how to incorporate Structured Family Recovery® into the intervention process, to encourage long term family recovery.

JEFF AND DEBRA JAY are clinical interventionists and co-authors of Love First: A Family's Guide to Intervention (Hazelden, 2008). Jeff has been working full time in the alcohol and drug treatment field since 1986, including work for the Hazelden

Foundation. He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, and is a Certified Addictions Professional and a Certified Intervention Professional. He has appeared as an expert on CNN, PBS, and the Jane Pauley Show. Debra has been a frequent guest on The Oprah Winfrey Show. She is a noted author, lecturer and interventionist. She has been seen most recently on ABC Evening News and Good Morning America. Debra is author of It Takes a Family (Hazelden, 2014), the guide to Structured Family Recovery®. Both are highly regarded in the field of addiction and family recovery.
